

WILLING TREAT WITH U. S.

Controversy
Separation of Panama
Hearing End.

April 3.—Information today indicated that the treaty virtually has been settled for a final settlement. The treaty is a bitter one between the United States and the Colombian government over the separation of the only minor details remaining between American and the Colombian and that the perfected treaty will be reached in about a week. President Wilson on tuesday is said to have aided in hastening the negotiations between the governments to an amicable conclusion. Colombia, according to today's reports, has abandoned the demand that merchant vessels of that country be allowed to pass through the canal free on an equal footing with American coastwise vessels under the existing law.

President Wilson's request for repeal of the exemption clause of the law and the passage of a repeal bill by the house are said to have satisfied the Colombian officials that ground for their demand practically had been eliminated.
When the negotiators have perfected their agreement it will be drafted in the form of a treaty and submitted to the Colombian congress for approval before it goes to the United States senate today for ratification. It is expected that the president of Colombia will call a special session of congress for this purpose, as there will be no regular session until next July.

BOYS MAKE BETTER BISCUITS THAN GIRLS

NEWPORT, R. I. April 3.—Two boys out of a class of eight won a biscuit-making contest against a class of sixteen girls at Rogers high school today. All used baking powder made in the school laboratory. The judges were experienced cooks. Professor Frank M. Greenlaw, head of the scientific department, offered the prize.

MARTIN TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Tells Story of His Life and Denies Implication in Blackhand Plot.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, April 3.—Joseph Henry Martin, on trial for the shooting of David Edwards, the detective, on the morning of November 9, went on the witness stand in his own defense today. He was composed and deliberate, and told the story of his life from the time he was made an orphan to his arrest as the leader of the Ogden blackmailers. He told a straight story, as far as the direct examination for the defense went before adjournment today. The examination of the defense was not concluded. He gave his testimony before one of the largest crowds of the trial. The direct examination of the defendant will be concluded Monday morning, to which time the case was postponed.

Martin was the real witness of the trial today. His appearance on the stand was no surprise to the state. He told the history of his occupation from his boy-hood to the time of his arrest. He went into details of his employment after leaving school in the eighth grade in Texas, when both his parents died. He told of how his uncle, J. F. Martin, took him to Missouri and how he went as a young man, at the age of 21 years, to Texas and enlisted in the Spanish-American war with the rough riders under Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. He told of his participation in the last three important battles in Cuba with the American army of invasion, culminating in San Juan hill.
Then he recited in detail where he had been employed from that time up to his arrival in this city and his employment in various positions as a carpenter for the Oregon Short Line and Southern Pacific railroads. He had traveled to New Mexico and Arizona and Colorado, and he told of the various persons he had worked for. It was an interesting recital of a man's occupations, and the witness told it straightforwardly and without hesitation or a trace of nervousness.

During his recital of his movements he mentioned many names of persons he had seen, some of whom he had had conversations with. When telling of going down West Seventeenth street to his uncle's house, he said he had seen forty or fifty people congregated around the spot where Edwards, the detective, had been shot early that morning. He mentioned the names of Richard Porter, one of the blackhand victims; Chief of Police Norton and Pauley, a near-by resident, as among those he had seen there. He declared he had spoken to a man named "Bill" Price, whom he described in detail. He said Price had pointed out a piece of paper in the road which marked the path of the detective. He saw men inspecting the buckshot traces in the trees and the telephone pole near by, and, following the footprints, passed the McChesney home, directly in front of the shooting.

Golf Club for Ogden.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—According to the plans which are being promoted by William Larkins, manager for the Dinwiddie Construction company, Ogden is soon to have a golf and country club. More than twenty prominent Ogden men have signified their willingness to become members, said Mr. Larkins today, and he is negotiating a deal for the leasing of the university grounds near the east foothills.
It is planned to use about forty-five acres of land, on which will be laid out a regulation nine-hole golf course. After the golf grounds have been completed a clubhouse will be erected. Among those interested in the project are Joseph Scowcroft, M. S. Browning, J. W. Eccles, J. H.
DeVine, Mr. Larkins, Royal Eccles, R. E.
Hoag, J. W. Abbott, H. J. Peery, A. P.
Burglar and others of this city, together with W. R. Wallace and H. P.
Smith of Salt Lake.

No Principal Chosen.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—Owing to the inability to secure a quorum of the members, there was no regular meeting of the board of education tonight. The selection of a principal for the Ogden high school to succeed Henry Peterson was to have been made, but, according to Superintendent John M. Mills, this matter will not be decided before the next regular meeting. The leading candidates for the position are W. H.
O'Byrne and J. E. Beeson, both being members of the high school faculty at the present time.

Laundry Employee Hurt.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—Mrs. Mary Payne, an employee of the laundry at the Oregon Short Line commissary, sustained injuries which necessitated her removal to the Dee hospital, when she fell down stairs at the railroad building this morning. She was reporting for work when she tripped, falling backward to the landing below.
The young woman sustained several fractured bones, the bruises she received will cause her to remain at the hospital for several days. Mrs. Payne resides at Lincoln avenue and Twenty-third street.

New Directory Issued.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—Estimating the future increase in population of Ogden by the growth during the past year, as shown by the 1914 directory, now being distributed by R. L. Polk & Company, this city should have a population of more than 40,000 by 1920. The Polk company estimated the population at 30,000 one year ago, and the new directory places it at 32,000, computing this figure by the number of individual names which appear in the new issue. This number is 15,572, as compared with 15,445 in 1913.

Given Jail Sentence.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—With the charge reduced from a felony to that of vagrancy, William C. Barrett, aged 19 years, was sentenced by Judge W. H. Reeder today to serve thirty days in the city jail. Barrett pleaded guilty to having opened a letter entrusted to his care for mailing and taking out a check for $50. He pledged for another chance, and the discussing witness agreed to the reduction of the charge.

William Nye Dies.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—William Nye, who arrived a stranger in Ogden several weeks ago, died at the Dee hospital today, following an operation for cancer of the face. The only known relative, a daughter residing at Circleville, Ohio, has been notified by telegraph of the death of her father. The body was removed to the Lindquist undertaking establishment.

Engstrom Funeral Sunday.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—The Rev. H. D. Zimmerman will have charge of the funeral services to be conducted Sunday afternoon for Theodore Engstrom, who committed suicide at the home of his sister Tuesday evening. The services will be held in the Lutheran church at 3 o'clock.
Interment in the Ogden City cemetery.

Stickney Funeral Today.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—The funeral of Thomas J. Stickney, the Utah and Idaho representative of a large wholesale grocery firm of Chicago, who died yesterday, will be held Saturday afternoon, with services in the seventh ward chapel at 2 o'clock.
The body will lie in state at the Larkin chapel between the hours of 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. tomorrow.

Eastern Star Entertains.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 3.—Nearly fifty members of the order of the Eastern Star were the guests of Queen Esther chapter of Ogden at the annual inspection tonight. Members of the grand chapter from Salt Lake City and members of the order from numerous other cities of Utah were in attendance. A banquet was held and official business transacted.

Says He Was Robbed.

OGDEN, April 3.—E. Salerino, an Italian, complained to the police tonight that he had been robbed of $300 by two countrymen who worked the "substitution game" on him while he was en route from San Francisco. He furnished the police with a clear description of the alleged robbers.

Mrs. Amelia Lundquist Dead.

OGDEN, April 3.—Mrs. Amelia Lundquist, wife of C. J. A. Lundquist, undertaker, died here today after an illness of a few days. Born in Hunsville, Iowa, in January 1865, she is survived by her aged mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Larson; her husband, and seven children. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

But One Marriage License.

OGDEN, April 3.—At the county clerk's office today a marriage license was issued to H. L. Dyer of Bonnetville, Idaho, and Hazel Anna Thorpe of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

SECRETARY BRYAN IN BED WITH COLD

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Secretary Bryan, who was unable to leave his bed bed today, was reported improved tonight. His physician has ordered a few days' rest, however, and he is not expected back at his desk until Monday.
The secretary's illness was described as a heavy cold.

Look to Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first-class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers. (Advertisement.)
